IGCSE Spanish at BHS: Curriculum and Projects During Lockdown

By: Esperanza Breydy Abraham We have been making real progress in our Spanish online classes. Certainly online teaching has become the new way of teaching during this crisis and we had to quickly learn new teaching methods through new applications in a way we never thought we would have to resort to. The Spanish Department...

IB1 Science Research

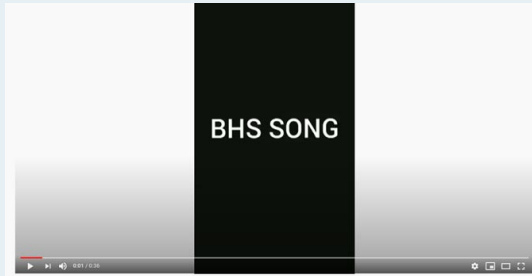

The end of the academic year saw IB1 students presenting to a wide audience their nature of science research work. One of the main aims of the projects was to show collaboration between team members, with each team member focusing on a specific area of science within the overall topic (either physics, biology or chemistry)....
