Secondary Assembly

Principal David Gray addressed the Brummana High School Secondary Section assembly which was attended by classes for whom teaching has not yet concluded. He congratulated them on surviving the year which has been difficult for everyone, and reminded them that although they have been deprived in many ways, especially of interaction, they have also learned...

No.	Principals (Spouse during this time)	Years as Principal	Sources
	Theophilus Waldmeier Founder of the Friends Syrian Mission and BHS (Susan Bell Waldmeier)	1873-1877	"The people at Brummana and other villages asked me for schools, and I thought it good to comply with their wishes. I therefore wrote to my friends at Berne in Switzerland on the subject, and they sent me at once the means for opening a Girls' School at Brummana, which was done in the summer of 1873... Before the year [1873] closed means were sent from Canton de Vaud and from Lausanne, in Switzerland, by Madam Clara Monneron, for opening Boys' Schools at Brummana and Bell Mary." Theophilus Waldmeier, The Autobiography of Theophilus Waldmeier , p. 255-256
1	Beshara Manasseh	1877-1878	"Dr. Beshara Manasseh, whom Waldmeier had met earlier... came up the mountain in 1877 to be the first head of the Boys' Training Home. But he soon had a dispensary thronged with patients, and gave up teaching to deal with them." John Ormerod Greenwood, Quaker Encounters, Vol. 3, Whispers of Truth , p. 99
2	Lottaliah J Ruskallah	1878-1895	"He [Beshara Manasseh] was succeeded as head of the school by Lottaliah Ruskallah, who remained until his death in 1895 the most devoted and best-loved of them all." John Ormerod Greenwood, Quaker Encounters, Vol. 3, Whispers of Truth , p. 99
3	Thomas Little (Wife: Saarah Miller Little)	1895-1908	"When Lottaliah died from typhoid fever in 1895, it was natural that Thomas Little should be given full charge of the Boy's School. This position he held until his own death in 1908." H J Tuttle, Quaker Service in the Middle East , p. 47 LITTLE, Thomas: B.T.H. (Boys' Training Home) 1897; Principal BHS 1895-1908. Tuttle Index p. 173 "By 1902 not only the curriculum of the Boys' Training Home
