OSA Donation – Thank You

The school is very grateful indeed for the extremely generous donation the Old Scholars Association (OSA) made to the school this week in fresh dollars, directly benefitting teachers and support staff who face many challenges in the deteriorating economic situation. The donation is being made in four parts, and school employees will all receive an...

Today was the first day for Clubs in the Upper School. Students made their choices at the Clubs Fair last Friday. For the first time, students this year have the opportunity to select again after Christmas, adding even more variety to their time on campus.

Online Community Platform

The school has been preparing its worldwide community database system recently. The system and platform comes with many opportunities for BHS to benefit from, including communications, events management and fundraising. We were happy to run our first online event registration with the book sale last month and soon the school will be communicating the BHS...

Fundraising Update

Some of the school's Trustees and the Principal, Bursar and Marketing Manager met online again on Monday night as part of the QuIET/BHS fundraising group. Now joining these meetings is Friend of the school, Georgette Hamaty, who holds great work experience in the field of fundraising in North America, the majority of which was within...

It's great to see the Infant Section children back in school learning and playing!

A collage of three photographs showing children in the school courtyard and classrooms. The main photo shows a large group of children playing in a paved courtyard. Two smaller inset photos show children sitting at tables in a classroom, engaged in learning activities.

Medical Update on Masks

Share this article:

"I felt short of breath."

"I can't breathe properly."

"I find wearing it for long periods of time uncomfortable."

"I feel I am almost suffocating while wearing a mask."

Also, it's very common for parents of students to ask for a medical report of exemption from wearing a mask at school. These are the kinds of comments the BHS medical team has been hearing from students/parents in regards to wearing a face mask.

Most of us aren't used to wearing a face mask and the sensation of having a mask on the face might make someone anxious or uncomfortable or feel short of breath (click HERE to read about mask anxiety.)
