Week 47: Prunus cocomilia, commonly known as the Italian almond or Cocomero cherry, is a species of flowering plant in the Rosaceae family native to the Mediterranean region. The tree flowers provide nectar for pollinators such as bees and butterflies, while the fruits are eaten by birds and small mammals. A single small tree, now in bloom, is found on campus facing the entrance of the lower tennis court. As part of the school's 150th-anniversary celebrations, the curator of ... See more

On Wednesday, 13 March 2024, the Careers Department launched its first mentorship programme. We are grateful to our 15 mentors who wholeheartedly responded to the call. Coming from a variety of professions, our Old Scholars, along with the Parents Association, inspired Grade 11 students with their future careers. Brummana High School's 151-year-old rich history has truly impacted the future of its scholars. For more photos, please visit: <https://bit.ly/3x0P6T1> #BHSiserve
