Author Talk: Mishka Moujabber

An excellent talk was given in the Thomas Little Memorial Library by Mishka Moujabber, Governor and writer of prose and poetry. She gave a colourful presentation which was focused largely on identity, not least because she speaks 5 languages, was born in Egypt, had a Greek mother, lives in Lebanon and whose first language is...

Quakers of Lebanon: A Forgotten Minority

Published on April 17, 2023

Quaker families in Lebanon have been dwindling in number as more and more young people choose to travel to further their education, find work, or start over. Quakers are recognized in large part for their accomplishments in academia and business.

Some long standing school records have been broken in this year's Field Day. In the Senior Boys Long Jump, a record which has been held for over 60 years (by K. Mudaress from Syria in 1961 - 6.62 metres) was broken by Sleyman Haber with a jump of 6.67 metres. In the Senior Girls Long Jump, Maygen Naassan jumped 4.48 metres and broke Sherine Zeinoun's 2007 record jump of 4.45 metres. Congratulations to Sleyman and Maygen.

In the Robotics Lab in the Arts and Craft block, teacher Elias Haddad Barouky carried out assessments of IGCSE students in Design and Technology. Students had to make presentations on their final products and the process by which they had arrived at decisions and made the products ready for commercial sale. The presentations were made before a jury comprised of the Principal, and several other members of staff as well as Mr Barouky.

The school received this image from former teacher John Harvey who taught at BHS between 1963 and 1966. He said: "I have just discovered an old wallet - unused since the sixties - and found in it a photograph of a painting done by one of my 'A' level pupils, Zaven Kassabian, in 1965 when I was working part time at BHS, teaching Art."

Tolerance means ...
Appreciating and respecting differences in people."
Our KG2 students enjoyed singing songs and presenting a play about tolerance.
